The Summer Girl,

generally speaking, will have a delightful time in making selections from our assortment of Wash Fabrics because it's entirely new! Note the rigid simplicity—the clearness of design—which prevails throughout the entire range of the three greatest members of the wash goods family—Dimities—Marseilles—Zephyrs. Space only to touch lightly on Marseilles. Have these in light, medium and heavy weights—with woven tucks and lace stripes—with plain and broken, cross and vertical cords—some of them are touched up with clear stripes and dots of bright color. Diversity and newness among them, which immeasurably widens their field of usefulness.

An Old Wheeling Firm.
Hennig Bates & Co., Jewelers, Baltimore, Md., who left Wheeling in 1874 to establish their Baltimore house, have recently converted their business into a stock company. Besides the members of the old firm, Messrs. Fred A. Bates, E. McGill Walker and Emory S. Blake will be interested in the new concern, of which William H. Hennegon is president, James O. Bates vice president, and John D. Reynolds, secretary and treasurer.

A Squire's Helping Hand.
West Virginia laws do not give justices of the peace the authority to perform the marriage ceremony, yet couples often journey hither from neighboring states, expecting to enter the matrimonial one via the justice shop route. Probably few in the business are so often sought as Squire Fitzpatrick, and his cares are never too pressing to halt him from bringing on the scene the authorized personage. Yesterday his services assisted in uniting for wedlock J. H. Griffith, of Brooke county, and Miss Ida M. Snedeker, of Ohio county. The ceremony, which occurred in the squire's office, was performed by Rev. J. H. Little.

COALITION BROKEN.

There Will be no Revision of the Commissioners' Election.

MR. MCCOLLOCH, OF RICHLAND

Deserted the Coalition Crowd Yesterday Afternoon and Voted With the Five Republicans to Decline to Sign the Bill of Exceptions Presented on Behalf of Mrs. Annie Driehehorst. The Incident is Now Closed.

The legal controversy following the recent rulings of President McGregor, of the Ohio county board of commissioners, that contributed to the ending of the famous deadlock, will now come to its conclusion, in fact the last round was fought out yesterday afternoon, and resulted in the complete rout of the "coalition five" who are now, by the way, the "coalition four," one of the objectors having deserted rather unexpectedly.

This development came in the afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock, when the board of commissioners met in regular monthly auditing session. Attorney W. P. Robinson, who has been conducting the legal fight of the "coalition" people, appeared and repeated his former request that the bill of exceptions to the McGregor rulings be signed by the board. He had already presented the bill to President McGregor, and that gentleman declined to sign, acting on the advice of Prosecuting Attorney Meyer. Then, it will be remembered, Mr. Robinson applied before Judge Paul for a writ of mandamus to compel Mr. McGregor to sign the bill; this writ the court declined to grant, and one of the reasons for declining was that the majority of the board would have to sign.

Learning a lesson from his former failure, Mr. Robinson appeared and asked that the board sign the bill of exceptions. A vote was taken on the proposition, and just here Mr. McCulloch, of Richland district, executed a flip-flop of the most approved sort. The vote resulted in a declaration to sign the bill of exceptions, 6 to 4. Those voting aye were the five Republicans, McGregor, Hare, Moore, Bowman and McCurdy, and McCulloch, Democrat, who has heretofore been voting with the "coalition." Those voting in the negative were Fritz, Tyson and Gutman, Republicans, and Stahnke, Democrat. The defection of McCulloch, of course, has the effect of not only deciding the motion declining to sign the bill of exceptions, but brings to an end the deadlock in the board and makes it impossible for the objectors to the recent election to make any further kicks. It was stated yesterday afternoon that the objectors would now drop their fight.

A resolution was passed, instructing Mrs. Annie Driehehorst, until the late election toll keeper at the Caldwell's run gate, to vacate the toll house, which she has continued to occupy since William Downs, her successor, was elected. The board transacted some routine business and adjourned at 3 o'clock.

IMPROVEMENTS START

On Pleasant Valley Park, Formerly Known as Selbert's Garden.

Work will begin to-day on the erection of a commodious refreshment stand at Selbert's Garden, the suburban pleasure resort recently purchased by Messrs. Killan Bader and Philip Maurer, which in the future is likely to be designated as Pleasant Valley Park, although the new proprietors haven't definitely decided on the name. The refreshment booth will be a large building, erected northeast of the pavilion, and only one of the many improvements to be made, all of which will entail the outlay of between $8,000 and $10,000. It will be set aside for the convenience of picnic parties, and will be furnished with a stove and cooking facilities.

The contract for the erection of the electric light plant will probably be let next week. The grounds are to be brilliantly lighted by electricity, not less than thirty-five lights being planned for. If possible, Pleasant Valley Park will be opened by June 1. Nothing but high class attractions will rule, and arrangements are now under way for concerts by Sousa's and other famous bands. The pavilion stage and auditorium are to be given an increased capacity, and the park is destined to become one of the most delightful spots in the upper Ohio Valley.

Sherman-Hennig Wedding.

Yesterday morning, at 9:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, occurred the marriage of Mr. Samuel Serman, well known as the efficient traveling passenger agent of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, and Miss A. Linna Hennig, daughter of Dr. E. J. Hennig, who is known as one of the brilliant members of the Players' Club, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Cunningham, of the First Presbyterian church, in the presence of a few friends. The newly wedded couple left later in the day for Chattanooga and Savannah. At the former city they will visit the famous Spring festival. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Serman will unite in congratulations.
